

Mission

The mission of the Franklin County Municipal Court is to provide a judicial forum for the public and legal community to objectively and fairly administer justice in a timely and efficient manner.

Strategic Focus

Primary Initiative: Specialized Dockets - The mission of the Specialized Docket Department is to enhance public safety, rebuild lives, and reduce recidivism through the use of restorative justice programs. It addresses the problems exhibited by each target population by providing a coordinated, comprehensive approach to treatment and rehabilitation of criminal offenders who satisfy the program's target population.

Primary Issue: Specialized Dockets - For nearly two decades, five problem-solving courts have operated at the Franklin County Municipal Court focusing on mental health, drug and alcohol dependency, heroin dependency, military and veteran service, and human trafficking. The Franklin County Municipal Court collaborates with public and private agencies to provide wrap-around care, through the use of appropriate treatment and services, so that the underlying issues that have contributed to a participant's criminal behaviors can be resolved. - The results of specialized dockets include a reduction in jail nights for participants, improved community safety through lower recidivism rates, reunification of families, increased home-ownership, and an increase in the number of taxpayers. Overall, participants should be contributing members of the community upon completion of the program.

Performance Spotlight

Measure: Percent of clients that did not receive new charges in 2 years of programming

Program: Municipal Court

About this measure		Why it is important
This measure tracks the percent of specialized docket clients that do not receive new charges in 2 years of programming. Data is collected from the Franklin County Sheriff's Office database and the Franklin County Municipal Clerk's Courtview Database for this measure.		Treatment courts are the most successful justice intervention for individuals with substance use and mental health disorders. Graduates of problem-solving courts are much less likely to commit another crime within three years of admission. Restorative justice is the philosophical foundation of the division. In the context of the municipal court, restorative justice is a process by which offenders take responsibility for their actions, understand the harm they caused, redeem themselves through the process of recovery, become contributing members of their families and the community, increase public safety by ceasing criminal behavior, and reduce the emotional and financial burden on society.
What is being done
The Court provides quality programming to high risk/high need participants to link them with individualized treatment, reduce barriers to success, hold participants accountable for the impact of their behaviors, and encourage independent recovery. The Franklin County Municipal Court collaborates with public and private agencies to provide wrap-around care, through the use of appropriate treatment and services, so that the underlying issues that have contributed to participant's criminal behaviors can be resolved.

Vacancy Credit

The vacancy credit process is designed to more accurately reflect the expenditures for Salaries & Wages and Fringe Benefits within the agency budget request. The calculations for the budget process begin with funding all approved positions for the entire year excluding new positions contained in a Request for Results. Vacancy credits take into account that not all approved positions will be filled for the entire year. The methodology historically used to estimate an agency’s vacancy credit utilizes a four-year history of unused personnel budgets to determine an appropriate percentage of Salaries & Wages and Fringe Benefits that will likely remain unspent at the end of the year. However, vacancy credits may vary from the four-year average due to staffing trends or the number of positions supported within a fund. Vacancy Credits may also differ between Salaries & Wages and Fringe Benefits due to the timing and fixed amount charged for healthcare.
